Tips, Tricks, and Strategies for Malphite in League of Legends: his performance have him ranked as an S-Tier character based on how frequently he is selected, how often he wins, and how infrequently characters who use him are banned. He has five abilities, with one passive, three active, and one that is both. These are: Granite Shield: Malphite gains a shield based on maximum XP after spending a short time away from the battleSeismic Shard: Malphite deals magic damage to a single target, slowing this target and quickening his own pace for the same amount instead. This spell is unavoidable and therefore good for poking. Thunderclap: This is an active and passive spell. When used as a passive, Malphite deals magic damage to a single target, slowing this target and quickening his own pace for the same amount instead. This spell is unavoidable and therefore good for poking. Thunderclap: that causes normal attacks to create shockwaves in front of him. Ground Slam: Malphite hits the ground with his fist, sending a shockwave of magic damage. This attack also temporarily reduces the Attack Speed of affected enemies. Unstoppable Force: Ultimate ability. Malphite charges, damaging enemies and launching them into the air. By far the most damaging combo at Malphite's disposal is to start with Unstoppable Force, then use auto attack, followed by Thunderclap, Ground Slam, another auto attack, and Seismic Shard. This combo can slow down enemies considerably and control the flow of battle. Players will likely want to pick up Ignite and Flash as Malphite's spells. Ignite is a good damagedealing spell to use after using Unstoppable Force. Flash will allow Malphite more mobility as well as boosted offense and defense options. Depending on whether players should make sure to get the following: Grasp of the Undying: Attacks sometimes deal bonus madic damade. heal. and permanently increase HP. Weakness: Slowing enemies' movement speed also causes them to take additional damage. Backbone: Grants additional damage. Backbone: Grants additional damage. Backbone: Grants additional damage. Backbone: Grants additional resistance bonus after using a crowd control ability. Spirit Resolve: Gain 50 maximum health and 20% slow resistance. For a mage build, players should equip: Aery: Send Aery to a target, which will damage enemies and shield alliesRegeneration: Regain missing health or mana depending on which is lowerManaflow Band: Increase maximum mana with every successful hit against an enemyGathering Storm: Gain AD or AP every two minutes. When choosing items to use to build Malphite, players should focus on the composition of the other team and select items that will help counteract their abilities. For example, which will return a portion of their damage back to them. If the enemy team contains a lot of champions who can deal heavy magical damage, players will want to outfit Malphite with gear that improves defense against magical resistance are generally good choices for Malphite. If possible, players should pair Malphite on a team with Yasuo. This is because Yasuo's Last Breath attack can be used following Unstoppable Force to keep enemies in the air longer and prevent them from counterattacking immediately. Read on for all you need to know to play Malphite, the Shard of the Monolith, in League of Legends Wild Rift Just picked up Malphite on Wild Rift and need a few pointers on how to play him? Read our guide on the Shard of the Monolith and you'll be a master of the top lane in no time! Runes Grasp of the Undying Gathering Storm Conditioning Manaflow Band With Malphite, you should see your laning phase go relatively smoothly. Your goal in the top lane should be to wait and build up your armour and health. This gameplan makes Grasp of the Undying an excellent choice as it offers you additional health if you manage to trade with your opponent consistently. Gathering Storm provides you with a bit of added scaling, which is always welcome since you'll rarely ever make any significant moves before you get your ultimate. Conditioning offers you +8 armour after 5 minutes of in-game time has elapsed. Most of Malphite's spells scale with your Seismic Shard since it's a targeted spell. Skills Here's the best skill order for Malphite. Rank up your abilities in the order outlined below, however be sure to always rank up your ultimate whenever it's available to you. Summoner Spells Starter Items and Boots Starter Items and Boots Main Items The items you buy on your champion will vary from game to game depending on the composition of the enemy team. We've compiled a list of the best items on Malphite that can be seen below, ranked by their importance. Items in bold are essential purchases that you'll buy in most, if not all, of your matches. 1. Frostfire Gauntlet 2. Sunfire Cape 3. Thornmail 4. Adaptive Helm 5. Enchant Boots - Teleport Tips and Tricks Malphite is one of few champions that can completely turn around a fight with a well placed ultimate. Be sure to use Unstoppable Force with careful consideration, preferably on the squishy targets on the enemy team. Malphite is a nightmare for enemy team short on AP champions. This champ is an excellent pick against full-ad compositions, since his armour scales so well. Riot Games, the giants behind League of Legends, Valorant, Teamfight Tactics, and Legends of Runeterra, have released their next game: League of Legends Wild Rift. Page 2 21 comments Malphite is a tank top lane champion. As long as Malphite can survive the early game and farm up to get his core items, he can really be a game-changer in the late game with his Ultimate Unstoppable Force. When he groups up in the mid and late game with his team this is really where Malphite can carry the game and be a big front-line tank that allows the rest of his team to walk up and damage the enemies. Sunfire Aegis Abyssal Mask Thornmail Randuin's Omen Force of Nature Mercury's Treads - Teleport Malphite is known as being a solo front-line tank that can survive a lot of damage and that reflects in his build. Sunfire Aegis is a perfect first item for Malphite. It gives you a bunch of health that you need and does damage to nearby enemy using Ground Slam (3rd Ability) to reduce the enemy's attack speed. Abvssal Mask is another great item for Malphite if you are against a lot of magic damage on the enemy team. Not only does it give you health, magic resistance, and much-needed mana, the item is also great for its passive. Nearby enemy team. Not only does it give you health, magic resistance, and much-needed mana, the item is also great for its passive. Nearby enemy team, not only will you do more damage but so will the rest of your team. For runes we have: Grasp of the Undying With Malphite's passive you will be able to walk up with the shield and take trades and fight the enemy to allow you to stack Grasp really easily to get more health and become unkillable. Brutal Good way to get some extra ability power that can help at all stages of the game, especially early game when your poking with Seismic Shard. Second Wind As a melee champion, it is very helpful to have more health regeneration especially for the laning phase as most of the time, you will be poked out by ranged champions. Manaflow Band With Seismic Shard (1st Ability) being an easy point and click spell to hit the enemies it's really easy to get stack on this rune to gain more mana which helps a lot as the game goes on. Flash Ignite For summoner spells, Flash is a must on most champions. It's a great spell to get you out of a bad situation or allows you to flash and save your ally or even maybe get a kill. The 2nd spell is Ignite, this is great on Malphite to get that extra bit of damage. If you poke the enemy early with Seismic Shard you can look to engage onto the enemy at Level 5 when you get your Ultimate, Unstoppable Force, to try and kill them. Malphite doesn't do the best in the early game as a tank but as mentioned before it's best to stay back, farm up and poke down the enemy with your Seismic Shard (1st Ability). When you get close to the enemy and start to fight you want to make sure to use Ground Slam (3rd Ability) to reduce their attack speed. This will help a lot when fighting early on. Once you reach Level 5 and get Unstoppable Force (Ultimate) you can look for a solo kill on the enemy top lane if they are low or save it and roam down to Dragon when it spawns at 4 minutes and group up with your team to get a big game-changing Ulitmate on the enemy team. The later the game goes the tankier and stronger Malphite will get! Not only do you have a great team fight Ultimate on the enemy team. The later the game goes the tankier and stronger Malphite will get! Not only do you have a great team fight Ultimate on the enemy team. The later the game goes the tankier and stronger Malphite will get! Not only do you have a great team fight Ultimate that can change the game goes the tankier and stronger Malphite will get! Not only do you have a great team fight Ultimate that can change whilst your team is doing all the damage to them. You want to stay with your team at all times and try not to get caught out by yourself. You don't do well at all in a 1 vs 1 situation. With Malphite being one of the only full tank options in the game right now he is really easy to play. If you like to have an Ultimate that can change and win you the game in an instant whilst also being a big front line tank then Malphite is the go-to champion for you.
